

A pair of weathered, calloused hands, likely belonging to a laborer or a person of manual work, are shown from the palms up. The hands are dark and have prominent ridges and wrinkles. In the center, between the hands, is a dark, shield-shaped object with a dotted white border. Inside the shield, the word "Servant" is written in a large, white, serif font. Below it, in a smaller white font, is the definition: "noun ser·vant \ 'sər-vənt \
:one that serves others." The background is black.

Servant

noun ser·vant \ 'sər-vənt \
:one that serves others.

Serve God, Not Money

Matthew 6:19-24

Don't be greedy (vs. 19-20)

Realize it is a matter of the heart (vs. 21)

Begin seeing generously (vs. 22-23)

What is your ambition? (vs. 24)
